10. Mrs. Glavin conferred with Mr. Harbo and determined that as a result of the meeting with Curdick, the NY 62 edition book had no further plans to contact him. I told Mrs. Harbo that our interests seemed to have been satisfied and that I believed we should disengage ourselves as gracefully as possible.

11. Upon return, R/P Coordinator, called on 7 May to further concerning our involvement in the Charles case. He stated that he had called his contact that day to advise him that AML had no direct interest in Charles and that it was acting as an intermediary of the request of General Bunker who had passed the lead to General Hatch. AML was concerned that due to the nature of involvement to the Charles, certain might have to state that AML had intervened or had obstructed all contact with Charles. I explained to him that had happened and he later called back to state that AML was completely satisfied in the way the matter had been handled.

12. On 8 May Mr. Patrick telephoned to advise that the Operational Branch of AML was discussing the Charles case with R/P to determine future course of action. He was still somewhat concerned over our position in the case since Charles remained here to the final point in Washington. I indicated to him that the matter was one for the State Department or the Operational Planning in Berlin and that we preferred to disengage ourselves. Mr. Patrick mentioned that a dispatch had been received to the effect that a circle of Charles was gradually restricted as a measure to facilitate should the latter be overthrown. One was of the opinion that the US government should continue to "play ball" with Charles as a fringe asset in Eastern affairs.
